

#PlanWithMeAugust

Hosted by @PrettyPrintsAndPaper and @TinyRayofSunshine

How do I...

1. Figure out my planner needs
2. Decide on a system/layout
3. Set up my planner
4. Plan my day/week/month
5. Track my habits
6. Add my personality to my planner
7. Use sticky notes
8. Adapt a spread that's not working
9. Decide what to keep in a planner
10. Manage and break down projects in my planner
11. Monitor my health and wellbeing
12. Get motivated to do the work
13. Prioritize or focus my task
14. Adapt my planner for my needs
15. Decorate
16. Make lists
17. Decide on "go-to" pens
18. Overcome procrastination
19. Set myself up for success
20. Use color
21. Track a budget or finances
22. My favorite planner system/layout
23. My go-to essentials for planning
24. Plan on the go
25. Categorize sections
26. Plan on vacation
27. What do I use my planner for
28. What DON'T I use my planner for
29. Experiments I've tried
30. How did I get started planning
31. How has my system evolved

#PlanWithMeAugust

Hosted by @PrettyPrintsAndPaper and @TinyRayofSunshine

Hello planners!

Welcome to the #PlanWithMeAugust challenge. With the paper-planning trend becoming popular once again, we've seen a whole variety of planner systems, styles, and tricks. Social media gives us a LOT of inspiration when it comes to designs, layouts, and decoration, and we wanted to focus on the "How" this month.

For us, planning is a medium to get stuff done and to intentionally design a life we desire. But how we do it is another story – there are so many different ways we make planners work for us. We love swapping tips with others in the planner community, which is why we are both so excited to see what wisdom emerges throughout the month! These prompts are designed specifically to get at questions we've seen come up in different planner groups – how do we actually use our planners? How do we begin?

Join us at #PlanWithMeAugust and share how you use your planner system, no matter what it is – and see what other ideas are out there, too. We invite you to join at any time, pop in when you can, and engage with others who are still trying to figure out what their "planner peace" is.

Yours,

Jessica & Kim